Profile

Learning designer and AI Champion with more than nine years designing and delivering programmes for CEOs, C-suite executives, boards and government ministers. As Regional Director at YPO (Young Presidents' Organization), I lead 27 chapters of chief executives across the Middle East and North Africa. I started working alongside top CEOs to deliver AI to YPO members, brought what I learned into my own work, and became the AI Champion in my workplace, primarily supporting Regional Directors across EMEA and APAC, plus the entire department and teams across other departments. I'm excited to help companies build the tools, skills and judgement to use AI effectively and, most importantly, safely.
